3.4.1 Extension activities are carried out in the neighborhood community, sensitizing students to social issues, for their holistic development, and impact thereof during the last five years.

Response:

Our college has a tradition of interacting with the community in the neighborhood, we take pride in extending the knowledge base to train and educate the community, through a large number of professional bodies that are functional in our college. Faculty and students actively participate as resource persons in programs organized by college. All these extension activities have given the participants exposure to cases like significance of clean surrounding, hygiene, sanitation in the neighbourhood, garbage disposal, and sensitizing the community at large to these vital issues. All these initiatives have gone a long way in social and educational development of the participants of these programmes.

Blood donation camp strengthens the sense of empathy and compassion among donors and also instills in them a sense of commitment and ethical responsibility. Programmes on women empowerment creates awareness among girl students of their condition and their rights, and among boys a sensitivity towards problems of women, leading to lessening of gender bias and patriarchal prejudices. All this leads to informed, balanced and responsible citizenship.

The activities listed above are indicators of the manner in which multiple issues of social, political and economic significance are discussed and dealt with in order to create sensitivity and understanding among students and contribute to balanced development of their personality, so that committed and ethically informed citizenship is created.
